

IR Dance Student Code of Conduct

The goal of the IR Dance Student Code of Conduct is to help students, teachers and families create an environment that is supportive, encouraging and promotes growth and learning. At IR Dance, clear and reasonable rules are fairly and consistently implemented.

Studio Etiquette:

Dancers are expected to arrive on time, dressed in uniform and prepared for class. Food should be left in the lobby (except with permission or for special events) and no gum. Water bottles are allowed. The studio is a peanut and nut-free environment. Dancers should leave outdoor shoes in the boot room or lockers and not wear them beyond the lobby. The studio is not responsible for lost property and dancers should leave valuables at home.

Cellphones and Technology:

Cell phones or other devices are not permitted in the dance studios, unless specific permission has been given by the teacher to use the device to record class work. While there is no formal policy against using cell phones in the student lounge or lobby, dancers should limit their use and maximize face-to-face interaction with other people in the studio.

When using Social Media we ask you to adhere to our confidentiality policies at all times (no identifying information of other dancers should be given). No choreography, class content or instruction of any form should be posted on social media or online without the prior approval of the instructor and management of IR Dance.

Respect for Others:

Creating a welcoming and positive community is important to us so we can ensure all dancers are respected and their individuality celebrated. A culture of respect and acknowledgement is key at IR Dance and beyond. The Wingman for Dance program and principles are central to building this community. Dancers are asked to conduct themselves in a way that promotes respect and encourages others to be their best self. Students should be courteous and act in a manner that does not interfere with anyone else's use and enjoyment of the studio.

Bullying, Discrimination and Exclusion:

Bullying, discrimination and exclusion will not be tolerated at IR Dance. Any actions (verbal, physical or written) that are perceived as intimidating, hostile or disparaging are strictly forbidden. This includes behavior inside the studio, online and outside the physical space but involving members of the IR Dance community.

Group dynamics and inappropriate behavior will be addressed by the staff as best as possible and parents/families will be involved when necessary. Students that choose to not follow the studio code of conduct may be removed from the studio.
